Replacing the DeLaval swinging cow brush cylinder helps keep your cows clean, calm, healthy and productive.

Continued benefits over the long term

As a swinging cow brush is pretty much in use around the clock, its bristles – just as with any brush that is used on a daily basis – become worn and less effective over time.

Therefore, we strongly recommend that you freshen up your brush on an annual basis by replacing the head.

Replacement brush cylinder

With the new brush head replacement, you or your DeLaval service technician can simply replace the head in a matter of minutes.

NEW FEATURE Eccentric brush head

For those farmers that want the best for their cows, the patented eccentric swinging cow brush is ideal. The uneven blue bristles with varying stiffness provide a more defined massage for cows. This further stimulates blood circulation while helping to keep cows clean and calm.

The eccentric cow brush is available as a replacement brush cylinder. It fits onto any DeLaval swinging cow brush unit.

Two brush options

In addition to our unique yellow cow brush, DeLaval now offers a new edition featuring a variable pressure brushing and variable bristle stiffness. This generates different pressures along the grooming surface. This new brush option for the swinging cow brush is just one of the many ways that DeLaval stands behind you to help improve your business.
